

Tips and Tricks

At the end of chapter try to make your own short notes for quick revision, make a list of formula to revise quickly before exams or anytime when you required to revise the chapter, it will save lots of time for you.

After studying these concepts go through solved examples and then go to MCQ and practice the problem to make sure you understood the topic.

Solve the questions of the books which you are following and then go to previous year papers.