

The alkene formed as a major product in the above elimination reaction is

Correct Answer: D

Solution :

[d] Hofmann's rule: When theoretically more than one type of alkenes are possible, the alkene containing least alkylated double bond is

