

What did Bohr say about the electron configuration?

Bohr found that an electron located away from the nucleus has more energy, and electrons close to the nucleus have less energy. Postulates of Bohr's Model of an Atom. In an atom, electrons (negatively charged) revolve around the positively charged nucleus in a definite circular path called orbits or shells.