

1. The reason for double helical structure of DNA is operation of

(1) dipole – dipole interaction

(2) hydrogen bonding

(3) electrostatic attractions

(4) van der Waal's forces

Solution:

Helical structure of DNA is stabilised by hydrogen bonds.

Hence option (2) is the answer.