

Question : Why are low spin tetrahedral complexes not formed?

Answer : Because for tetrahedral complexes, the crystal field stabilisation energy is lower than pairing energy.